Course Description

A survey course covering ancient and modern political theory.

Fees

Online Course Fee: $15 per credit course fee is applied to all online courses to sustain current digital technologies and support services required for engaging and effective online learning.

Course Objectives

This course is designed to encourage students to learn and think deeply about:

1. The core themes of major political ideologies, including the values, doctrines and theories that define the major characteristics of these political ideologies.
2. Sub-traditions that characterize each political ideology, the distinctive features of each sub-tradition, the internal coherence, or lack of coherence, of the ideology as a whole, and areas of disagreement between supporters of the same ideology.
3. Contemporary developments within the ideological tradition in question which reflect how, and to what extent, it has been reshaped in the light of globalizing tendencies.
4. Major thinkers in each tradition.
5. Key concepts and major events in the history of the ideology,
6. Rival perspectives on important political themes and points of tension within each ideology.
7. How ideologies are configured internally.

Instructor

Dr. Michael Petersen
(801) 230-7642
michael.petersen@usu.edu
Office Hours: M-Th:10:00-11:00 AM

You may contact Dr. Petersen immediately in any of the following three ways:

1. Canvas has a built in e-mail tool. If you wish to send an e-mail message to me, I am immediately notified, and will reply as soon as I see a message from you. This is also an effective way to communicate one-to-one with any other class member.
2. My USU e-mail address is michael.petersen@usu.edu. I am continually notified if I have new e-mail, and will reply to your messages as soon as I see them.
3. You may call me on my cell phone whenever you need to reach me, at 801 230-7642. My regular office hours are 10:00-11:00 am., M-Th. My office number is 435 797-9924. If I am away from my desk, leave a message on my voicemail and I will return your call as soon as I hear your message.

Required Textbook

The required text for this class is:

Additional readings will be assigned for each unit of the class. All of these readings will be available online, from links in Canvas.

Course Requirements

To successfully pass this course, you must complete the following:

1. 2 Unit Examinations, each worth 50 points. Reading assignments for units 1-2 will be covered in Exam 1, and assignments for units 3-4 will be included in Exam 2. You may take these examinations online from any computer during the dates specified. The Unit exams will consist of short answer questions, that will be based on information from the textbook, assigned articles, and videos. Each question answered will be worth 2 points. You will prepare one essay question, for which you will be given three quotes from the readings you completed. You will choose one to write a short essay explaining the message, context, and implications of the quote.
2. Final Examination, worth 100 points. The final examination will emphasize reading assignments from units 5 and 6, but will also review textbook and readings in units 1 through 4. You may take the final examination online from any computer, but only during final exam week. It will follow the same format as the unit exams, with a combination of short answer and essay questions. However, there will also be a general essay question which will require you to reflect upon and provide a summary of significant portions of the material we have studied in class.

3. Unit Analyses, worth 25 points each, worth a total of 150 points. A major responsibility you have as a student in this course is to complete the assigned readings and develop a good understanding of the ideas and concepts presented within them. The unit analyses require you to demonstrate your understanding of the readings in the textbook and assigned readings.

4. Online Discussion Participation, worth 10 points weekly, for a total of 150 points. You will be expected to originate at least one posting and respond to at least one comment each week. Discussions are open from Monday morning through Sunday night. You will be unable to post comments and earn points once that discussion closes.

5. 2 term papers will each be worth 50 points. These assignments will require you to compare the ideas of two of the political philosophers we study in the first and later units of the class regarding a key issue, and to submit an extended essay (typically 3 to 4 pages in length) submitted using the Canvas assignment tool. The Unit 2 and Unit 4 instructions provide specific details about the term papers.

Evaluation Methods and Criteria

Points will be assigned to examinations, observations and analyses, term papers, and online discussion participation, as follows:

Course Schedule/Outline

This class is to be completed during Fall Term, 2020. It is divided into 6 units, each of which will be completed approximately every two weeks. You will complete reading assignments in the required textbook and readings; and submit analyses for each unit. You must complete each unit analysis, participate in weekly online discussions, complete two term papers, and take three examinations to effectively participate in the class and to earn all available points. It is possible that adjustments may be made in the schedule, so be sure to check the schedule linked from the Canvas home page before you begin working on a particular section.

Attendance, Excused Absences and Non-Attendance Policy

This is an online class, so class attendance does not occur. Instead, students are expected to maintain a schedule by which they complete course assignments according to the course schedule. I do recognize that extenuating circumstances may occur. The term ‘extenuating’ circumstances includes: (1) incapacitating illness which prevents a student from completing course assignments for a minimum period of two weeks, (2) a death in the immediate family, (3) financial responsibilities requiring a student to alter a work schedule to secure employment, (4) change in work schedule as required by an employer, or (5) other emergencies that I deem appropriate. If students do face such exigencies, they must contact me to discuss and resolve the circumstances.

Students may be dropped from POLS 2300 for nonattendance. Failure to complete assignments scheduled during the first two weeks of the term constitutes non-attendance, and if students have not discussed extenuating circumstances with me, I may submit a request to have the student dropped from the course. (This does not remove responsibility from the student to drop courses which he or she does not plan to attend.)

Assumption of Risk

All classes, programs, and extracurricular activities within the University involve some risk, and certain ones involve travel. The University provides opportunities to participate in these programs on a voluntary basis. Therefore, students should not participate in them if they do not care to assume the risks. Students can ask the respective program leaders/sponsors about the possible risks a program may generate, and if students are not willing to assume the risks, they should not select that program. By voluntarily participating in classes, programs, and extracurricular activities, a student does so at his or her own risk. General information about University Risk Management policies, insurance coverage, vehicle use policies, and risk management forms can be found at: http://www.usu.edu/riskmgmt/ (Links to an external site.)
Library Services

All USU students attending classes in Logan, at our Regional Campuses, or online can access all databases, e-journals, and e-books regardless of location. Additionally, the library will mail printed books to students, at no charge to them. Students can also borrow books from any Utah academic library. Take advantage of all library services and learn more at libguides.usu.edu/rc. (Links to an external site.)

Classroom Civility

Utah State University supports the principle of freedom of expression for both faculty and students. The University respects the rights of faculty to teach and students to learn. Maintenance of these rights requires classroom conditions that do not impede the learning process. Disruptive classroom behavior will not be tolerated. An individual engaging in such behavior may be subject to disciplinary action. Read Student Code Article V Section V-3 (Links to an external site.) for more information.

University Policies & Procedures

Academic Freedom and Professional Responsibilities

Academic freedom is the right to teach, study, discuss, investigate, discover, create, and publish freely. Academic freedom protects the rights of faculty members in teaching and of students in learning. Freedom in research is fundamental to the advancement of truth. Faculty members are entitled to full freedom in teaching, research, and creative activities, subject to the limitations imposed by professional responsibility. Faculty Code Policy #403 (Links to an external site.) further defines academic freedom and professional responsibilities.

Academic Integrity – "The Honor System"

Each student has the right and duty to pursue his or her academic experience free of dishonesty. To enhance the learning environment at Utah State University and to develop student academic integrity, each student agrees to the following Honor Pledge: "I pledge, on my honor, to conduct myself with the foremost level of academic integrity." A student who lives by the Honor Pledge is a student who does more than not cheat, falsify, or plagiarize. A student who lives by the Honor Pledge:

- Espouses academic integrity as an underlying and essential principle of the Utah State University community;
- Understands that each act of academic dishonesty devalues every degree that is awarded by this institution; and
- Is a welcomed and valued member of Utah State University.
Academic Dishonesty

The instructor of this course will take appropriate actions in response to Academic Dishonesty, as defined the University’s Student Code. Acts of academic dishonesty include but are not limited to:

- Cheating: using, attempting to use, or providing others with any unauthorized assistance in taking quizzes, tests, examinations, or in any other academic exercise or activity. Unauthorized assistance includes:
  - Working in a group when the instructor has designated that the quiz, test, examination, or any other academic exercise or activity be done “individually;”
  - Depending on the aid of sources beyond those authorized by the instructor in writing papers, preparing reports, solving problems, or carrying out other assignments;
  - Substituting for another student, or permitting another student to substitute for oneself, in taking an examination or preparing academic work;
  - Acquiring tests or other academic material belonging to a faculty member, staff member, or another student without express permission;
  - Continuing to write after time has been called on a quiz, test, examination, or any other academic exercise or activity;
  - Submitting substantially the same work for credit in more than one class, except with prior approval of the instructor; or engaging in any form of research fraud.

- Falsification: altering or fabricating any information or citation in an academic exercise or activity.

- Plagiarism: representing, by paraphrase or direct quotation, the published or unpublished work of another person as one’s own in any academic exercise or activity without full and clear acknowledgment. It also includes using materials prepared by another person or by an agency engaged in the sale of term papers or other academic materials.

For additional information go to: ARTICLE VI. University Regulations Regarding Academic Integrity (Links to an external site.)

Sexual Harassment/Title IX

Utah State University is committed to creating and maintaining an environment free from acts of sexual misconduct and discrimination and to fostering respect and dignity for all members of the USU community. Title IX and USU Policy 339 (Links to an external site.) address sexual harassment in the workplace and academic setting. The university responds promptly upon learning of any form of possible discrimination or sexual misconduct. Any individual may contact USU’s Office of Equity (Links to an external site.) for available options and resources or clarification. The university has established a complaint procedure to handle all types of discrimination complaints, including sexual harassment (USU Policy 305 (Links to an external site.)), and has designated the Office of Equity Director/Title IX Coordinator as the official responsible for receiving and investigating complaints of sexual harassment.
Withdrawal Policy and "I" Grade Policy

Students are required to complete all courses for which they are registered by the end of the semester. In some cases, a student may be unable to complete all of the coursework because of extenuating circumstances, but not due to poor performance or to retain financial aid. The term ‘extenuating’ circumstances includes: (1) incapacitating illness which prevents a student from attending classes for a minimum period of two weeks, (2) a death in the immediate family, (3) financial responsibilities requiring a student to alter a work schedule to secure employment, (4) change in work schedule as required by an employer, or (5) other emergencies deemed appropriate by the instructor.

Students with Disabilities

USU welcomes students with disabilities. If you have, or suspect you may have, a physical, mental health, or learning disability that may require accommodations in this course, please contact the Disability Resource Center (DRC) (Links to an external site.) as early in the semester as possible (University Inn # 101, (435) 797-2444, drc@usu.edu). All disability related accommodations must be approved by the DRC. Once approved, the DRC will coordinate with faculty to provide accommodations.

Diversity Statement

Regardless of intent, careless or ill-informed remarks can be offensive and hurtful to others and detract from the learning climate. Emergency Procedures

In the case of a drill or real emergency, classes will be notified to evacuate the building by the sound of the fire/emergency alarm system or by a building representative. In the event of a disaster that may interfere with either notification, evacuate as the situation dictates (i.e., in an earthquake when shaking ceases or immediately when a fire is discovered). Turn off computers and take any personal items with you. Elevators should not be used; instead, use the closest stairs.
